History

The Raibrook Foundation, a tax-exempt public charity, was founded on May 15, 1990. Begun by a local philanthropist, it grew out of his deep affection for the area and his desire to enhance it for current and future generations, including preserving and fostering an appreciation for the natural beauty, open spaces and distinctive history which are so integral to our extraordinary quality of life.

The staff and board of the Foundation are committed to our founder's vision and to his love of Door County. Our goal is to perpetuate his legacy and advance our mission by supporting non-profit organizations in projects related to education, recreation and history.

For many years, our Foundation has acted as a catalyst for learning and discovery in Door County and has provided support to many local organizations. It is our hope that the work of the Foundation and the vision of our founder will extend beyond this time and place – improving the lives of generations to come.

The Grant Program

Eligibility: Applicants must be nonprofit, tax-exempt 501(c)(3), U.S. organizations or units of state or local government (i.e., schools, parks). Evidence of non-profit tax status or government status must accompany applications. For-profit organizations and businesses are ineligible to apply.

Areas Served: Door County with an emphasis on Nasewaupsee, Sevastopol and Sturgeon Bay.

We Fund: Projects which address community needs in the areas of education, history and recreation. Projects do not need to be large in scope. The Raibrook Foundation welcomes any project that can make a difference in the community.

Dedicated to improving the lives of generations to come.

We Do Not Fund:

- Projects not aligned with the Foundation's specified areas of interest
- General operating support for ongoing activities
- Loans or debt retirement
- Endowment funds, annual appeals, general fund drives, special events or sponsorships
- Projects of organizations whose policies or practices discriminate on the basis of ethnic origin, gender, race, religion, or sexual orientation

Review Criteria: The following criteria will be considered during the review of all grant applications.

- The definition of the project need, problem or opportunity is well-defined.
- The project is aligned with the applicant organization's mission statement and with the Foundation's areas of interest and funding criteria.
- The budget is reasonable and detailed.
- Other funding sources are identified.

Grant Cycles: Grant applications are reviewed monthly. Applications must be received by the first of each month and are available at the Raibrook Foundation offices, applications can also be downloaded from the website:
